ANNUAL REPORT | 2018 |

EUROPE REGIONAL DIRECTOR

2018 will remain inscribed in golden letters in the history of RLEF. In 2018, the largest number of official matches were played in the official RLEF competitions since the founding of the RLEF, 27 full 13-side matches were played in four official RLEF competitions, Rugby League European Championships A, B, C and Rugby League U19 European Championship, of which 15 were in the senior competitions European Championship A (6 matches), European Championship B (3 matches), European Championship C (6 matches) and 12 matches in the Rugby League U19 European Championship.

After successful consultations with nations throughout 2017, RLEF returned the official competition for under-19s players after 12 years, the last one under-19s competition was played in 2006 in. This was a great success of RLEF and enabled further development of younger players, which was one of the priorities of RLEF development strategy.

In terms of members, Albania (ARL) has become a new nation to join the RLEF family, an observer member of RLEF, while Turkey (TRLA) and Greece (GRLA) were promoted to affiliated members.

After three successful years of work on the Erasmus plus program entitled the 'Training and Education Portal' (TEP) and implemented via six clusters, the program was successfully completed and achieved excellent results and strengthened the human resources of the RLEF member nations in the field of coaches and match officials.

MEA REGIONAL DIRECTOR

After Lebanon's successful world cup campaign in 2017, which saw them automatically qualify for England 2021, a governance dispute marred much of 2018. While the collegiate and schools competitions ran as normal, the five-team club championship was suspended and later awarded to Tripoli RLFC as the only club in compliance with the sports ministry willing to continue the championship.

Ghana restarted activity with the appointment of UK based development officer Sam Leach, whose six-month presence helped revitalise the young Rugby League community.

Further positive developments took place in Nigeria with the new Nigeria Rugby League Association taking over from its dormant predecessor.

There was also a change of guard within the Federation Marocaine de Rugby League with Yamina Abdeselem elected president, and with a manifesto to obtain government recognition and strengthen the clubs.

Cameroon welcomed a level 1 match official and coaching course led by Regional Director Remond Safi which prompted the local championship and its completion.

AMERICAS REGIONAL DIRECTOR

The Americas Region has maintained a steady level of activity amongst its active members, USA, Canada and Jamaica in 2018. Trinidad and Tobago continue to be inactive.

Domestic 13-a-side Championships in the member nations continue to be the highlight of growth and rugby league culture. In 2018, Canada recorded 22 games, USA 42 games and Jamaica 164 games.

The highlight of the international season during the period was the staging of the 2018 RLWC Qualifiers in Jacksonville which also doubled as the annual Americas Championship. Chile made its debut in the tournament and became the first South American country to play games against its Northern neighbors. Jamaica emerged victors of the tournament and qualified for its first RLWC with wins over Canada in the semi-finals and the USA in the Finals.

Throughout the region limited Coach and Match Official education activities were executed by the respective governing bodies.
